

SmartMan traveled to Argentina after being invited to demonstrate our medical simulators. The word spread quickly, and after seeing the demonstrations, people were delighted with SmartMan's color feedback and realistic feel.

Clinical and Emergency personnel were enthusiastic to get their chance for Hands-on experience to run through code blue and rapid response procedures. After viewing SmartMan's instant feedback, participants quickly initiated friendly competition to see who could achieve the best practice first.

As usual, people were blown away with SmartMan Baby's "amazingly sensitive airway feedback". We all know how research describes the impacts of proper CPR, and the value that SmartMan Baby brings is an important one for neonatal and pediatric teams.
